

PRIME CONNECTION

Courtesy of Berry Architecture + Associates

Welcome to the Team!

We are pleased to announce another new addition to our Team at Berry Architecture. On October 15, intern architect Richard Sison joined the firm. Richard brings 10 years of architectural experience to our team; he is a registered architect in the Philippines and has been an intern architect in Canada for the past 4 years. Richard has excellent design skills and shares our enthusiasm for quality architecture and client care. He is a 3D modeling whiz and can create a computer fly-through of your next design project. Welcome Richard!

Volume 1, Issue 11

"You have to go wholeheartedly into everything in order to achieve anything worth having."

-Frank Lloyd Wright

Peerless Trout Health Center

Schematic design for the new Peerless Trout Health Center is complete. After a number of incarnations, we have arrived at a design for a very comprehensive, multi-use health facility. It will include all facilities usually found in a health center: exam and treatment rooms, waiting rooms, offices, staff room, dispensary, and so on. However, it will also include a number of spaces for additional services such as maternal health, community health, Brighter Futures, Well Baby, visiting therapists, public health nursing, home care, and dental care. Providing these specialized services locally will be very beneficial to the two communities which make up Peerless Trout First Nation. Working drawings are well underway—the new health center will soon be a reality!

Click the Project Green button for some simple home energy savings tips for winter.

★ Name that Project Winner

Congratulations to Teresa Smart of Prairie Office. The correct answer is 32nd Street Crossing Strip Mall in Red Deer. Thanks to everyone who played.

SIGN UP NOW FOR PRIME CONNECTION

UNSUBSCRIBE FROM PRIME CONNECTION

berryarchitecture.ca