Tour of Alberta—Our Volunteers

This is the Berry Architecture Volunteer Crew for the Red Deer stage of the Tour of Alberta. George was the chair of the Local Organizing Committee. The rest of our team worked in course marshalling, security, parking control, road closures, volunteer check-in and anti-doping. It was a great day and very rewarding to see this world-class cycling event be such a resounding success. There were approximately 200 volunteers just for the Red Deer stage alone!

Farewell and best of luck to Breanna Spence, our NAIT summer student. Breanna returned to Edmonton at the beginning of September to pursue her second year of studies in the architectural technology program. Thanks for your dedication and hard work, Breanna!

Last month's newsletter item about the new Visitor Centre for the Ellis Bird Farm generated interest in donating to the project. If you would like to donate to the Ellis Bird Farm Visitor Centre, contact Ken Wigmore at ken@epgservices.ca. Link to Ellis Bird Farm website.

Berry Architecture Wellness Ride Update

Thanks to all participants for another great day for the Berry Architecture Wellness Ride! We would like to give a special shout out to our loyal, ongoing sponsors; our generous corporate donors; our dedicated volunteers; and, of course, our hardworking riders who cycle and raise funds. All your efforts are much appreciated and do a lot of good for the Canadian Mental Health Association and the Central Alberta Brain Injury Society. We raised $25,000 this year!

Green Roof Party!

Thank you to all who attended our green roof party on September 10. Here are a few pictures of the festivities. Hope you enjoyed it as much as we did! Congratulations to Gregg Meikle who was the winner of our door prize.
